Some More About Ziath. . . .

Founded in 2005 by Neil Benn and Tim Dilks, Ziath develops innovative new products designed to simplify processes in life-science organisations. For most of the company's existence the primary focus has been on barcoding.

Neil has 12 years experience within the pharmaceutical industry in a range of companies; GlaxoSmithKline, Cambridge Antibody Technology and Cenix BioScience GmbH.

Tim has 11 years experience in the field of software development, seven of them at Cambridge Antibody Technology

Ziath's sales and marketing is headed by Haakon Howard and David Griffiths.

Haakon brings 20 years industry experience to Ziath, as well as an invaluable network of customers and contacts throughout the world.

David has 30 years experience in marketing and publishing in the USA. For many of these years he owned and managed his own highly successful publishing firm.

Ziath takes great pride in the extraordinary quality and accuracy of its products, which are supported by our pre and post sales care and attention to our customer's needs.
